

WE SEE THE TREES

From Anansi and the Moss-Covered Rock

We see the trees
We see the birds
We see sky so blue
It's all so green
We see what you mean
Thank you for the view.

ANANSI (pointing to rock): No! Look here!

LITTLE BUSH DEER (still looking up in the air):

We see the trees
We see the birds
We see sky so blue
It's all so green
We see what you mean
Thank you for the view.

ANANSI (pointing to rock): NO! Look right here!

LITTLE BUSH DEER (finally looking down at the rock and pretending to be shocked):

We know every inch of the jungle
We know each gorilla by its groan
This is quite a change
This is very strange
Isn't this an odd grass covered stone?

ANANSI (getting upset): No, that's not it! Look again!

LITTLE BUSH DEER:

We know every inch of the jungle
We know each gorilla by its groan
This is quite a change
This is very strange
Isn't this an weird grass covered stone?

ANANSI (very upset): NO NO NO! Say it again!

LITTLE BUSH DEER:

We know every inch of the jungle
We know each gorilla by its groan
This is quite a change
This is very strange
Isn't this an weird...

ANANSI (interrupting): Isn't this a strange!

LITTLE BUSH DEER:

Isn't this a strange grass-covered...

ANANSI (interrupting): Isn't this a strange moss-covered...

LITTLE BUSH DEER:

What did you say?

ANANSI: Isn't this a strange moss-covered rock!

(ANANSI crashes down, instantly asleep)

CHORUS:

Down down down down
Down fell Anansi
Down he fell in sleep
Down down down down
Down fell Anansi
Slumbering so deep

Down down down down
Down fell Anansi
Bush Deer were so shrewd
The jungle cheered
And reappeared
And took back all their food.

Took back all their food.
